

FIRST FESTIVAL FOR THE GRAIN GROWERS

JUBILEE WILL BE HELD IN ANDERSON ON JULY 21.

HANDSOME PRIZES

Unique Event for This State Will Attract Many Farmers For Day's Program

The first thing of its kind to be attempted in this section will take place in Anderson on July 21, when the "Annual Grain Festival" is to be held in Anderson, taking place at the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Anderson people are already familiar with the working details of undertaking and know what Furman Smith, the Anderson seedman, proposes to do. Mr. Smith has worked untiringly on this proposition and he will make a success of it because he is backed up in this movement by the most progressive people in the entire country—Anderson county farmers.

The long list of valuable cash prizes offered must prove to be quite a surprise to the farmers of this section of the State and the competition will be keen. It is believed that July 21 will see more oats in Anderson than any other day ever brought here.

The presence here of Hon. W. W. Long and Hon. E. J. Watson on that day will also bring crowds, while one of the biggest drawing cards of the event will be the Hon. Asbury F. Lever, who is scheduled to deliver an address. The complete program for the day follows:

Exercises begin at 10:30 a. m. promptly.

J. S. Fowler, Chairman. Announcements—By the chairman. Invocation—Rev. Dr. W. H. Frazer, Pastor First Presbyterian church, Anderson, S. C.

Address—Methods Pursued by demonstration forces in seeding 100,000 acres in cover crops in South Carolina—Hon. W. W. Long, State agricultural agent, United States department of Agriculture.

Address—Agriculture in South Carolina—Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner, Columbia, S. C.

Address—The Lever Agricultural Extension Act, and what it calls to South Carolina—Hon. Asbury F. Lever, congressman from South Carolina and chairman committee on agriculture, house of representatives, Washington, D. C.

W. M. SHERARD.

Vice President Southern Textile Association.

Textile Manufacturer.

Mr. W. M. Sherard, the newly elected vice president of the Southern Textile association, is a native of Anderson county, S. C., having been born there forty-two years ago. He was reared on the farm and received his education at Moffattville Academy, and was salesman and bookkeeper in general mercantile store before taking up cotton mill work.

Mr. Sherard is a thorough practical man, having worked through each department of the mill and was a successful overseer for several years before being promoted to the position of superintendent.

Mr. Sherard has had wide experience on all classes of goods, both plain and fancy weaves. He has been superintendent for the past nine years and not only has he proven a very able superintendent, but he is considered to have marked executive ability and good business judgment. He is through-going in other matters than the strict duties of the mill; he takes a deep interest in the welfare of his operatives and encourages them to take an interest in social and moral uplift work.

Mr. Sherard is a believer in secret orders, being a member of K. of P., I. O. O. F., I. O. R. M., W. O. W., a Shriner and a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason.

The Southern Textile association is making for itself a name by electing to office its strongest and best men and in promoting Mr. Sherard to be vice president they have kept well up to the standard. He will fill the position with credit to the association, and acting in connection with the new president, there will be smooth sailing for the current term, at the end of which Mr. Sherard will be promoted to the highest position in the gift of the association.

Twenty-four driving wheels, each 33 inches in diameter, feature a locomotive recently completed at Philadelphia which is the most powerful yet built.

WINSTON SMITH, ANDERSON'S AUDITOR

A most remarkable man who is asking the voters of this county for re-election to the office which he now holds. Physically handicapped but notwithstanding that, he has made good. Regarded by the taxpayers of the county as courteous, gentlemanly and obliging. His records of the county show extreme neatness and accuracy, having recently been examined by an expert accountant and found absolutely correct in every particular. He respectfully solicits your vote for re-election.

NEW TEACHERS FOR THE COLLEGE

Dr. Kinard is On The Ground—Miss Smith of Abbeville, Lady Principal

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

With the coming of Dr. Jas. P. Kinard to take up his work as president of Anderson college, this institution though young, is taking another step forward in its remarkable progress and development.

With his large experience in the training of women, Dr. Kinard is well equipped to provide what is best in scholarship and in the general management of the college. The people of the city of Anderson and of this great county, and the friends of the institution throughout the state are giving it a most liberal and enthusiastic support and there seems to be no reason why the college should not realize the high hopes of all of the friends of education throughout the state.

In addition to Dr. Kinard, who will take the chair of English, there will be several other new teachers and officers at the college.

Miss Helen P. Smith of Abbeville, daughter of Mr. J. Allen Smith and a graduate of Converse College, will be the lady principal. Miss Smith has a degree from Smith College also and has just received her degree of master of arts at Columbia University. She is well and favorably known in South Carolina.

Professor Frederick Goode of Marion, Ala., will be the new director of music, as Dr. and Mrs. Fisher will remain in Europe this fall. There were many applicants for this position and Dr. Kinard looked long and carefully before he decided on any one to recommend to the executive board.

He believes that in Prof. Goode he has found just the man the institution required. Prof. Goode has been teaching at Judson College and is well known here by reputation.

Miss Madeline DeVette of the Randolph Macon Woman's College, will have charge of the department of history.

The department of art will be in charge of Miss Mary Dodson Ramseyer of North Carolina.

Several of the teachers will take courses in the great summer schools.

Prof. G. M. Faithfull and Miss Helen Hunter will attend the University of Va.; Misses Wakefield and Murray to the University of Tennessee Summer School at Knoxville, Tenn.; and Dr. Olga Pruitt to the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

UNIONS EXEMPTED

The Lower Branch of Congress Again Expresses Approval

Washington, June 22.—The house tonight again went on record for exempting labor unions from prosecution under the anti-trust laws. A provision in the sundry civil appropriation bill appropriating $300,000 for enforcement of the anti-trust laws was adopted after a sharp political debate over the provision exempting labor and agricultural organizations.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, who sought to have provision removed became involved in a heated argument with Representative Bryan of Washington, and other Progressives.

Mr. Bryan said he resented the "attempts of a stand-patter to stir Mr. Roosevelt."

Forty Were Hurt.

Sandyhook, O., June 22.—Forty persons were injured, several probably fatally, when a car on the Lake Shore Electric Railroad collided with a work train standing on a siding near here late today.

JNO. M. PATRICK DIED YESTERDAY

Was Once a Beloved Citizen of Anderson—Son of Late Capt. J. B. Patrick

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The news of the death of John M. Patrick in Tuscaloosa, Ala., yesterday caused much sorrow among the older citizens of Anderson who knew this lovely gentleman when he was a resident of this city. Col. Patrick was a native of Columbia, but had spent much of his life in Greenville and Anderson, being engaged for a number of years as a teacher with his father, the distinguished Capt. J. B. Patrick, for many years superintendent of the Greenville Military Institute and later of the Patrick Military Institute of this city, where his death occurred.

Capt. Patrick and his revered wife, who died just two years ago, are buried in Greenville and there the body of Col. John M. Patrick will be brought for interment Wednesday at an hour yet to be named. Col. Patrick was 48 years old, but had been in wretched health for several years, succeeding a serious attack when he was adjutant general of the state, where he received his rank of colonel in the national guard of the state. As a teacher and as a military man John M. Patrick was known all over the state and his death will cause sorrow among many friends.

For the last few years he had been in Alabama, near his brother, Col. B. S. Patrick, commandant of cadets at Auburn. Another brother, Dr. R. G. Patrick lives in this state. Capt. Patrick had been very ill for some weeks, but it was not thought that the end was as near as it proved to be. The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Carrie McC Patrick, one son, Jack Patrick, who is with the government survey in the canal zone; one daughter, Miss Vina Patrick; two brothers, Dr. R. G. and Col. B. S. Patrick; and three sisters, Mrs. P. E. Gurganus, Mrs. W. W. Sullivan and Miss Louise Patrick.

NEITHER WAS RIGHT

Shown at Quebec That Marines Failed To Properly Mark Charts.

(By Associated Press.)

Quebec, June 22.—That neither Captain Kendall, of the steamer Empress of Ireland, nor Alfred Tuffenes, first officer of the collier Storstad had indicated on maps the spot where a government investigator claims the shattered hull of the liner now lies, was the most important point of the testimony heard today by the Dominion commission investigating the collision between the two vessels.

This developed when Captain Gagnon, of the department of marine and fisheries, was called to establish the position of the hull. It developed that Captain Kendall had indicated the collision occurred about a mile and a quarter to the north of the spot where the hull lies and that Tuffenes gave a spot a few miles to the southeast.

DAMAGE BY FIRE

Meadowlands, Pa., Threatened With Destruction By Burning Oil.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Penn., June 22.—Twenty persons were injured, one seriously, and eight homes burned and six others damaged today after lightning set fire to a tank containing 25,000 barrels of oil at Meadowlands, near here. Efforts to extinguish the fire have been futile. A partial collapse of the tank caused the burning of 2,000 volunteers working to spread over a wide territory. Fighting the fire tonight and it was feared that either danger was based.

LONDON LIFE

London, June 13.—An "elephant and rhinoceros congress", in which delegates representing all of the great powers directly interested in Africa have participated, has finished a week's sitting at the foreign office, and as a result it is probable that effective action will be taken to preserve these animals from extinction in Africa.

The conference met at the suggestion of W. Woosnam, game warden of British East Africa, who pointed out that the elephant and rhinoceros were in great danger of extermination than any other species of big game in Africa. Delegates come from Germany, Belgium, Spain, France, Italy, and Portugal, all of which countries have colonies in the African continent.

Gambling on the Derby—recently won by an American horse—is believed to have attracted more money this year than every. The first prize of the Calcutta sweepstake lottery, which is the most popular method of risking one's money, amounted this year to about $300,000. Ten years ago the investments in this lottery warranted a prize of only $100,000. The prize as it now stands is probably the largest offered by any reliable form of lottery in existence.

The Calcutta Turf Club started this lottery as a mere club affair many years ago, but when the sale of tickets was thrown open to all applicants the investments rapidly grew until this year saw them coming from all parts of Europe, all the British colonies, and the Orient.

The London stock exchange had a sweepstake this year which offered a first prize of $12,500. This also was originally a friendly affair among members but it has become almost a public business. Members subscribe for batches of tickets and sell them to outsiders at a premium.

The findings of the recent Royal Commission on Divorce, so far as both majority and minority reports agreed, have been incorporated in a bill introduced into Parliament by Lord Gorell, former president of the Divorce Court. The most radical departure is that the sexes shall be on an equality before the divorce court.

Under the existing law, a wife must prove both misconduct and cruelty on the part of her husband, while a husband need only to prove misconduct in order to get a divorce. The new clause provides that any married person may dissolve marriage upon proving that the other party thereto has committed adultery.

The bill also provides that a judicial separation may be granted on the ground of habitual drunkenness, which includes intoxication by drugs.

An anonymous jokesmith recently sent several satirical letters to his friend, against militant suffragettes by inserting the following advertisement in the personal or "agony" column of a morning newspaper:

ISLAND FOR SALE—Wild scenery and precipitous cliffs; single gun on adjacent mainland would dominate any possible place of disembarkation. Ideal for colonization by Suffragettes. Though advertiser is Conservative he would gladly come to bargain terms with present Government or high minded philanthropist with country's mind at heart.

Judges of the criminal courts who have been criticized for playing golf on Sundays have found the excuse that noxious odors and gases of the New Bailey, as the court buildings are called, drive them to get all the fresh air possible in the time they have free from the courts. A century ago the Old Bailey was notorious for its odors. The New Bailey is little improvement. The poor ventilation has caused many a judge's headache and undoubtedly many prisoners have suffered an extra heavy sentence because of judicial irritation.

Boy conductors will be placed on some of the municipal street cars as an experiment. Much opposition was expected from the union to which the street car men belong, but when it was explained that the boys would only assist the regular conductors and that as far as possible they would be selected from the families of street car employees, no protest was raised.

It is almost impossible for the conductor of a double deck street car to watch his stops without neglecting one or the other and the boys assistants will be expected to relieve the regular conductor of part of his duties. The boys will be trained on the Trolley street line which runs to Greenwich through one of the thickly populated districts of London.

The one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Marylebone Cricket Club, the supreme legislative body of the English national game, is to be celebrated this month at Lord's, the club's headquarters in London.

The club was founded by Thomas Lord, a well-known cricketer of those days, who acquired the ground at St. John's Wood, which now bears his name. The first recorded match on the grounds was held in June 22d and to celebrate this cricket festival will open on June 22nd. The first match of the festival will be between the English Cricket eleven, which visited South Africa and the team representing the Rest of England; while the second match, which it is anticipated will be attended by King George, will be between the Army and the Navy.

Cover W. Washington Route.

Philadelphia, June 21.—About 152 members of the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution, today left for the pilgrimage over the route General Washington took in 1775 when he journeyed from Philadelphia to Cambridge, Mass., to take command of the Continental army. The party started from Independence Hall. The trip is being made in automobiles. The travelers will participate in patriotic exercises at different places on their journey to Cambridge.

GREENWOOD GRAND JURY

Makes Some Interesting Comments In Its Presentation to Court.

Greenwood, June 24.—There were some striking features in the presentation of the grand jury today. It is charged that court work is impeded because of the absence of witnesses and that in the cases against Jule Mose, Amos and Bob Mathis, the witnesses were intimidated. The grand jury recommended that vigorous steps be taken to get the witnesses in court. Other recommendations are as follows:

"Upon the examination of transcripts of magistrates we find that the fines imposed for carrying concealed weapons, gambling and violation of the dispensary law in our opinion are entirely too light, and we recommend that heavier fines be imposed."

We wish to call the attention of the officers of the law to the general violation of the law which forbids the selling of giving of cigarettes to any minor under 18 years of age.

"We also call attention to the state law which forbids any proprietor of any pool room from allowing any minor under 18 years of age to play pool or to loiter around any such places."

"Our attention has been called to the fact that certain merchants in various parts of the county have been selling merchandise on Sunday in violation of the law and some of the railroads are operating shifting freight trains in Greenwood county in violation of Sunday law."

The general violation of any law does not excuse the violators and this grand jury proposes to assist in the enforcement of such laws, as well as any others that may be on the statute books of Greenwood county."

TOO HOT FOR DUDES.

Georgia Tech Cadets Throw Up Their Jobs in Kansas Wheat Fields.

Atlanta, Ga., June 21.—The Tech students and other Georgia boys who have gone west to help harvest the wheat crop are striking hot weather to judge from a dispatch from Hoxie, Kansas. It is so hot there that the city follows imported for the harvest throw down their pitchforks and left the farmers in the lurch. The farmers depended on the county seat, told the farmers: "J. D. Hoxie" told the citizens that help was imperative, and the town immediately closed up shop, pulled down its blinds, and went to the fields. The drug store and the barber shop, the drug store and even the doctors forgot their business and turned in to help get in the grain. (From Tuesday's Daily.)

LAWYERS IN THE SWIM.

Got Their Autos on a Raft and Went to the Bottom of River.

Atlanta, Ga., June 24.—A party of Atlanta lawyers who started by automobile for the Bar Association meeting at Tybee Island, found plenty of adventure on their way, according to friends who have returned from the meeting. James A. Branch was host of the party and his guests were Clarence Bell, Jerome Moore and Dave N. Williams. Everything ran smoothly until they came to a stream near Madison, Ga., which was swollen by rains. They built a raft, put the car on it and called out into the waves, when the raft auto and lawyers went to the bottom. It required several teams of horses to drag the car out of the stream. (Jerome Moore is well known in Anderson.)

FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Eugene Long of Honora Path is Thinking of Offering.

Mr. Eugene Long of Honora Path was in the city yesterday and stated that at the suggestion of some of his friends, he is thinking seriously of offering for the legislature. Mr. Long has had a lot of trouble this year, sickness and accidents to his children, and he is undecided whether he can afford to make the campaign.

COTTON LOOKING FINE

Dr. L. O. McCalla Has Some Beautiful Fields on His Plantation.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Dr. L. O. McCalla, the steamroller, came on Sunday in off the road yesterday with a sample case full of orders and something else. This latter was a beautiful stalk of cotton from the field of Dr. L. O. McCalla of Starr, and was one stalk out of hundreds in a uniform patch of six acres. It is three feet tall and well fruited already. Mr. Allen says that the crops have picked up a great deal since the rain, but he has never seen at this time of the year a more beautiful prospect than that at Dr. McCalla's. Dr. McCalla is the farmer who sometimes brings a hundred or so bales to Anderson of a morning behind his splendid tractor engine.

Be Some Yodelling.

Louisville, Ky., June 22.—Hundreds of members of the German singing societies from various cities in the country are arriving in Louisville tonight to participate in the thirty-fourth Saengerfest of the North American Saengerbund, which opens here tomorrow afternoon and will continue through Saturday. Preparations have been made to entertain twenty thousand visitors.

Went Million Dollars.

Lexington, Va., June 22.—Alumni of the Virginia Military Institute today organized an association which will attempt to raise a fund of $1,000,000 to enlarge the school's buildings, equipment and grounds. Governor Stuart was an honor guest at today's commencement ceremonies.

Grandma's Telephone Visits

GRANDMA SMITH is a sprightly old lady who likes to keep in touch with things. In the next town lives another dear old lady who was Grandma's school-mate, and of whom she is very fond. It is impossible for the two old ladies to do much visiting, but every day they call each other up on the telephone and have the most delightful chats.

No one gets more comfort and pleasure out of the family telephone than Grandma.

BLEASE'S STATEMENT

As to Why the Militia Will Not Go Into Camp.

Columbia, June 24.—The following is what Governor Blease had to say about the National Guard of the State not being permitted to go to August 1st.

"The letter from the war department states as its reason for withdrawing the invitation for the state militia to participate in the August 1st encampment, and for the further refusal to furnish to the state any further equipment, that:

"In view of the large value of the stores which are missing, and are accounted for by the state, $83,127.73, and a large quantity of obsolete stores in value, $21,384.10, which have not been returned to the custody of the government, etc. the war department has no recourse but to withhold Federal aid from the organized militia of South Carolina until the provisions of the law cited are complied with."

I do not know who is responsible for these shortages and of course, everybody knows that not a single piece of this equipment, or a single article mentioned by the war department has ever been in the hands of the government, so far as I know. This is a matter which is handled by the Adjutant General's department, and I presume that General Moore can make proper showing and will show that there has been no dishonesty in the matter. I have no apology for the Adjutant General's department, but I am satisfied that no one would be so foolish as to fight General Moore responsible for any shortage which took place before he came into office, and I feel further satisfied that the United States government in enforcing the provision of the Dick law, as they are against this state, are simply verifying the statement made by me when a senator from Newberry county that South Carolina had best remain under the Dick law. This law was passed by the Republican party. It was passed for no other purpose than to concentrate the entire body of volunteer militia of the Republican party at that time. I said when it was a mistake and I said it, and am thoroughly satisfied that it is fair minded and unprejudiced people both in the militia and out will now agree with me."
